FARMERS' TRAINS BEING ARRANGED

Mr. Owen Plans Land and Water Trips to Instruct Growers.

AGENTS' LICENSES EXPIRE

Insurance Sellers Must Renew.
Good Roads Sentiment Grows Rapidly.

Three farmers' institute trips have just been arranged by Assistant Commissioner of Agriculture J. J. Owen. The work of planning and conducting these institutes has been made Mr. Owen's special province. He finds the railways willing and indeed anxious to co-operate to the extent of contributing the trains free of cost to the State.

A boat institute is one of the three planned. It will reach those farmers of the Tidewater and Eastern Shore section who are out of touch with the railroads. Commissioner Koller held a steamboat institute last year, which proved highly successful.

NEW INSURANCE LICENSES

All Agents Must Renew To-Day to Comply With the Statute. Every insurance agent's license in Virginia expired last night at midnight. Up to the close of business yesterday about 4,000 licenses had been issued in advance. Last year about 11,000 agents took out the necessary papers, and in consequence approximately 7,000 agents for all kinds of insurance—life, fire and accident—will be doing business to-day illegally.

NEW ROAD WORK PLANNED

Object Lessons Increase Sentiment for Better Highways. Steady growth in the sentiment throughout the State in favor of good roads is noted by the State Highway Department. Good roads, the officials say, are cumulative in their effect. Once a community gets the better highway habit it never loses it. Then, again, observation of the effects in other localities stimulates effort.

This is shown by the result in Orange county, where two magisterial districts, seeing the splendid roads in the district which lies between them, are stirring up public sentiment for a bond issue. The substantial farming and business interests of the State, the department is firmly convinced, are more imbued with the spirit of good roads building than ever before.

Contracts have been let for the construction of two miles of road between Appomattox and Big Stone Gap, in Wise county, and for two miles on the Peaks of Otter Road out of Bedford City. Talk of a $700,000 bond issue in Wise is not mere hot air, but is being seriously considered by the business interests of the county. It is more than probable that an election will be held on the subject in the near future.

Sentiment for bond issues for road improvement is being made in Warren, Nottoway, Albemarle and Orange counties. Work has been begun on the road between Fredericksburg and Spotsylvania Courthouse. Construction in the Northern Neck will be pushed later in the year, because of the difficulty of getting labor and teams during the tramping season.

Pulaski is still in a tangle over the issuance of bonds, which were voted some time ago. It is believed the difficulty will be obviated within a short time.

Governor at Normals. Governor Mann left last evening for the University of Virginia, where this morning he will address the Summer Normal School. If possible he will go to Covington to-night to speak to the normal students in that town.

Talk Health to Teachers. A series of addresses on public health have been arranged for Dr. Allen W. Freeman, Assistant State Health Commissioner. Dr. Freeman spoke last night at the University of Virginia Normal and will go to Emory and to Big Stone Gap for the same purpose. A speech has been arranged for Dr. Freeman at Bristol.

Treasurers Settling. Alfred J. Lilliston, treasurer of Accomack county, was at the office of the Auditor of Public Accounts on official business yesterday. Treasurers are daily making their annual settlements with the Auditor as of date June 15. The State has plenty of money now and will make the ghost walk to-day without difficulty. Most of the employees ask for their salaries twice a month, which they are privileged to do.

ENGINEER WINS IN HIGHER COURT

Verdict of $3,500 in Favor of Charles Gross Sustained on Appeal.

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday affirmed a decision of the Circuit Court at Lynchburg in the case of the Long Pole Lumber Company against Charles Gross, on appeal in error. Gross was a locomotive engineer employed by the Long Pole Lumber Company to run a train through a rough lumber country. During a week of heavy rain a bridge collapsed and the engine and crew were precipitated into a stream. Gross was injured. He brought suit and the jury awarded him $3,500 damages. An appeal was taken. The opinion was written by Judge Mitchell.

In the case of the Tredgar Company against the Seaboard Air Line Railway and receivers for collection of a claim, on appeal from the Circuit Court at Richmond, a rehearing was granted. Argument was made for the Tredgar Company by Wyndham R. Meredith, while L. L. Lewis appeared for the railroad company. Decision was reserved.

The court entered an order denying the motion for a modification of the decree in the case of the New Jersey and North Carolina Land and Lumber Company against the Gardner Lacy Lumber Company, on appeal from the Circuit Court at Wilmington, N. C.

PROTEST AGAINST CLOSING CITY DOCK

Meeting Held at Chamber of Commerce Adopts Resolutions.

MAY TAKE MATTER TO COURT.

City Attorney Pollard Says City Has Certain Perpetual Rights.

At a meeting of citizens held at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday noon resolutions were adopted opposing any steps looking to the closing of the Richmond dock and pledging the support of the chamber in its preservation for the use and convenience of the business interests of Richmond. The resolutions adopted also ask the repeal of a bill passed by the last Legislature which permits the State Corporation Commission, under certain circumstances, to authorize the closing of the dock.

Text of Resolutions. The text of the resolutions adopted, drawn and offered by President Henry W. Wood, of the Chamber of Commerce, who left the chair to speak on the matter, follows: "Resolved, That it is the sense of this joint meeting of representatives of the city and the Chamber of Commerce that we oppose most thoroughly the steps being taken to close the Richmond dock and that we pledge our hearty support and co-operation to the representatives of the city in preserving the dock for the use and development of the interests of the city of Richmond; and we further resolve that it is the sense of this meeting that the representatives of the city and of the chamber shall take steps to have Bill 373, passed at the last session of the General Assembly of Virginia, repealed at the next meeting of the General Assembly."

Public Hearing to Be Held. Besides a number of members of the chamber there were present representatives of the city government and of the owners and users of property abutting on the dock. The call for the meeting stated that the recent Legislature passed what is known as House Bill No. 373, authorizing the State Corporation Commission to close or discontinue any private dock or wharf affected with a public use or case, in certain cases, and that the that Richmond had spent $1,500,000 in connection with the dock and the canal leading thereto, which it would never have spent had it not felt assured that the dock would be preserved in perpetuity; that in every transfer of the property this feature had been recognized, and that each successive owner had acquired the property subject to the obligation to preserve the dock for the accommodation of vessels at a certain width and depth. He said that while some attorneys differed with him this was his firm opinion.

The matter was further discussed by Messrs. Rountree, Travers, Williams, Laird and others. Mr. Rountree being of the opinion that the dock should be closed, as its place could be utilized to better advantage for manufacturing sites, although he confessed he had not given the matter careful consideration.

As to Fencing the Dock. Mr. Travers did not favor the closing of the dock, though he thought the case of the bondholders was a hard one if they had to compete with free wharves erected by the city, and were compelled to fence or frame in the docks, which was never done in other cities.

Mr. Pollard explained that the city authorities did not propose to fence in the dock, but that the City Engineer had thought that it was practicable to have a chain across the end of streets leading to the dock, so as to prevent persons from walking into it, but that it was not anticipated that these chains would impair the usefulness of the dock for unloading or loading vessels, and that the city ordinance had been drawn strictly along the lines suggested by the City Engineer.

HOME WILL REMAIN AT BEDFORD CITY

Elks Defeat Plan to Take It Away From Virginia.

WILL BE BEAUTIFIED

Appropriation of $7,500 Is Made for Its Temporary Repair.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Detroit, Mich., July 14.—The feature of to-day's program of the National Reunion of Elks was a parade of 20,000 members of the order. It is estimated that 300,000 spectators were massed along the downtown streets and in the reviewing stands. Of this number the police say fully 300 were temporarily overcome by the heat and given assistance by the emergency squad of physicians. None was thought to have been seriously affected. The marching organization presented a series of unique pageants, stretching five miles in length, and requiring two hours to pass a given point.

The Virginia boys were loudly applauded when they swung into the avenue, in perfect unison to the music. They looked very natty in their uniforms. After disbanding, many of them motored out to the State Fair Grounds, where the Wright brothers entertained them with short flights in their aeroplanes. Others took to the river and spent the balance of the day at the various resorts.

The Elks' Home will stay at Bedford City, Va. This was decided upon at a stormy meeting of the Grand Lodge that lasted until late at night, when the question of abandoning the Home for the aged was settled. It was voted to leave the home where it is, and build and beautify it. A committee was appointed to prepare plans for the reconstruction and report to the Grand Lodge at next year's session to Atlantic City. In the meantime, $7,500 was appropriated for temporary repairs until the larger work can be undertaken.

AGAIN IN PRISON FOR LONG TERM

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Raleigh, N. C., July 14.—Festus Penney, the Wake county young man who stole a fine driving horse from H. Hobgood, at Garner, and then set fire to the barn to cover the theft, entailing several thousands dollars of loss on Hobgood, pleaded guilty before Judge Has. A. Coker, relatives making restitution for him, he was sentenced to two years for burning the barn and ten years for stealing the horse. Three years ago Judge Cooke sentenced Penney to two years for forgery and stealing from the Southern Express Company in Edgecombe county. After serving this sentence, he was taken in custody by the Federal authorities, charged with rifling mail while a rural mail carrier, Judge Connor letting him off on payment of costs, relatives making restitution for him, he robbed.

The trustees of the North Carolina Confederate Soldiers' Home here elected this afternoon Capt. W. S. Lineberry, of Randolph county, superintendent, to succeed the late Capt. Rountree. Capt. Lineberry was a captain in the Confederate Army, having a record of gallantry and faithful service. He has been sergeant-at-arms in connection with the sessions of the General Assembly. He and Mrs. Lineberry will live at the home.

Valuable Barn Destroyed. Three horses and four mules, twenty tons of hay, a large quantity of other feed and farm implements valued at several thousand dollars were burned early this morning when the barn broke out in the big barn on the farm of Grimes Cowper, of this city, two miles from Raleigh. Mr. Cowper's nine buggy horse, which he had sent out to the farm while he was away, was among the stock burned. The whole interior of the place was aflame before the fire was discovered, and nothing could be done to get the stock out. H. H. Goodwin is superintendent of the farm and lives in the residence some distance from the barn.

R. D. W. Connor, secretary of the North Carolina Historical Association, has just returned from Newbern, where he is a member of the committee of arrangements for the great bi-centennial soon to open. He says the outlook is fine for the success of the celebration.

The companies composing the Third Regiment, North Carolina National Guard, have just returned to their home stations from a ten days' encampment at Camp Glenn, Morehead. The Raleigh company and band members are enthusiastic in praise over the successful encampment. Adjutant-General Armfield says the encampment was successful in every way, the rifle range practice having been especially successful.
